

Access Information Management Acquires Capital Records Management

November 7, 2006

San Francisco based Access Information Management, announced today that it has acquired Capital Records Management (CRM), a leading Sacramento, California off-site records storage and management company. CRM, which has been servicing the greater Sacramento area for over 50 years, will continue to operate under the Capital name.

In conjunction with the acquisition, JR Dew has been appointed General Manager overseeing record center operations, client service and sales for the company.

“With the addition of CRM in Sacramento we now cover all major markets in California including Los Angeles, Sacramento, and the San Francisco Bay Area,” stated Access CEO Dennis Barnedt. “We’re excited that this will allow us to serve our clients with offices in multiple cities.”

CRM is the sixth acquisition made by Access since December 2004.

About Access Information Management

Access Information Management is a full service records and information management firm with facilities in Honolulu, Los Angeles, Sacramento and San Francisco. The company provides off-site records storage, electronic data protection, secure shredding programs and digital imaging solutions to thousands of companies in a variety of fields including legal, healthcare, insurance, real estate and government.